ZCE's Announcement on the Application and Instruction of Hedging Activities for PTA and White Sugar Futures

(2021) No. 32.

According to the provisions of articles 6, 12 and 18 of the Measures for the Administration of Hedging Activities of Zhengzhou Commodity Exchange, after research and decision, PTA and white sugar shall apply for hedging positions in the general month according to the variety method. The hedging position limit of PTA and white sugar varieties for non-futures company members or clients in general month can be automatically converted into the hedging position limit with the specified amount, during the trading day between the 16th calendar day and the last calendar day of the month before the delivery month. The specific announcement is as follows.

1. PTA and white sugar varieties are suitable to apply hedging position limit in general months according to the variety method

From April 26, 2021, non-futures company members or clients could apply for the general month hedging position limit of PTA and white sugar according to variety method or contract method. After the settlement time on May 31, 2021, non-futures company members or clients begin to apply for the hedging position limit according to the variety method, and stop using the contract method. Since June 1, 2021, non-futures company members or clients can only apply for the general month hedging position limit of PTA and white sugar according to the variety method.

For non-futures company members or clients who have applied and approved for the general month hedging position limit of PTA and white sugar according to variety method, their hedging positions and speculative positions shall not exceed 2 times of the speculative position limit standard. The speculative position shall not exceed the corresponding speculative position limit standard, and hedging positions shall not exceed the approved hedging limit.

2. The conversion time and limit of the general month hedging position limit of PTA and white sugar variety

After the settlement time on May 31, 2021, and between the 16th calendar day and the last calendar day of the month before the delivery month, the hedging conversion limits of PTA and white sugar variety for non-futures company members or clients in general month is the smaller one of the approved general months hedging positions limit and the conversion benchmark value, of which the conversion benchmark value of PTA variety is 10000 lots, and the conversion benchmark value of white sugar variety is 6000 lots.

During the trading day between the 16th calendar day and the last calendar day of the month before the delivery month, approved non-futures company members or clients could use the larger limits of the approved close to delivery month hedging positions limit and the converted hedging positions limit. For non-futures company members or clients who have not approved the hedging position of PTA and white sugar varieties near the delivery month, the hedging position limit maintain the conversion limit.
